

FAQs - IJFREE

Aims & Scope

What kind of papers does IJFREE (International Journal of Futuristic Research Evaluation in Engineering (IJFREE) publish?

IJFREE aims to publish research papers in all the areas of science, engineering and management. The research paper publication process starts with the submission of your research paper via Email submission. The peer review process usually completes within a month, depending upon the number of research papers in the queue.

Are you open to qualitative methods?

Yes, we encourage papers where mathematical models are used for analysis and conclusions.

Submission

Is it possible to submit the same article to IJFREE and another Journal simultaneously?

No. You have to give an undertaking that the article submitted by you is not published or submitted for publication in any other journal. The article not accepted by IJFREE can be published in any other journal. The intimation for non-acceptance of the article will reach you within 90 days of the submission of the article to IJFREE.

How and where should I send my manuscript?

You can submit your manuscript to Email at editor@ijfree.com

Reviewing

How does the review process work?

The review of articles is done through a blind peer review. All the articles received by IJFREE are sent to the Review Committee after deleting the name of the author to have an unbiased opinion about the research.

How do you choose the reviewers?

Eminent academicians are on the editorial and advisory board of IJFREE along with that we have a panel of renowned academicians and industry professionals to review the research articles.

How long do reviews usually take?

Minimum time for review of any article is 15-20 days or one month.

Publication

How long does it take for an accepted paper to be actually published?

It takes a minimum one month for an accepted article to be published. If the accepted article does not come under the theme of that quarter, the time taken to publish the article would be longer.

Do you have paper copies of Journal?

No. This journal is an online journal. The articles can be downloaded.

Whether this journal charges for Publication?

There is no charge for the processing of paper but author(s) of each accepted paper is required to pay the publication charge which is very nominal fees includes online publication charges INR 1500 for Indian Authors and (US Dollar $20)

Subscription

Is the Journal published at regular intervals?

The journal is published Bi-monthly i.e. Six Issues a year.

UNFREE